TOLL OF TORNADO IS MOUNTING

Damage Proves Higher as Inventory Goes Forward

NO FATALITIES RESULTANT

Injured Recovering—Stock Killed—Wind Freaks

Outside aid for those temporarily made homeless by the tornado of Monday night has not been necessary, it is stated. The people adjacent to the storm area in Allen, Van Wert and Hardin counties have been giving all the help necessary to the hundred or more whose homes were wrecked.

Work of clearing up the debris in the wake of the violent wind storm was taken up generally Wednesday, flood waters having subsided from streams and in lowlands and sunshine tending to dry out the soil on farms.

Those who were more fortunate, in escaping the wrath of the elements are lending their aid in bringing order out of chaos and getting the forms of the victims of the night of horror in some semblance of order, so that the spring work may be resumed as quickly as possible.

ROADS ARE CLEARED

Highways have been cleared for the most part and railroads and traction lines are regaining normal operation. As is usual in such incidents, first reports were exaggerated in some respects and minimized in others. Early reports that Illinois and Moulton were wiped out proved untrue.

There was little or no loss in the village of Buckland, but damage was wrought on nearby farms in Moulton and Noble towns, as related.

The Ohio Electric and Western who have overcome delays occurred by the raising of large numbers of poles. Freight cars on the Erie Railroad at Harrod, overturned in the tornado, delayed traffic a long time.

Work of re-establishing telephone and telegraph connections is proceeding rapidly, with a return of better weather conditions. Desolation and wreck and ruin, in the path of the storm is being obliterated, but weeks will be required to complete the work.

REMARKS OF STORM

Sheets of tin, tipped from roofs of structures are being found wrapped around trees and numerous instances of storm freaks are reported. Lovers of wood and straws driven to tree trunks are not uncommon. Instances of where chickens are partly denuded of their feathers are also reported. Flood waters inundated sections of improved roads in many places, but passage for vehicles is not altogether prevented.

Loss of orchards will entail a big loss to many farmers in lack of fruit this year. Rebuilding of houses and farm structures will require weeks of time. There is a general demand for carpenters in the storm-stricken area.

At Harrod and Harrod escaped with little damage by wind, but rain had done considerable damage. The villages were flooded and considerable property loss is reported. In water backing into cellars.

In the Yoder district the first reports were not exaggerated. In the upper community near Criders Creek, west of the storm and the wind, the elements are able to do more damage. Many cases of loss of horses, sheep and other animals were victims of the storm.

$30,000 OF TAXPAYERS' MONEY WASTED?

This Conclusion Reached By City On New Lights

Conclusions reached by the present city administration as announced Wednesday indicate that between $27,000 and $30,000 was wasted in original installation of Lima's "White Way." City Manager C. A. Bingham, who was not here when the work was ordered and who said Wednesday that he would not undertake to fix any blame, said experiments now under way by the city prove that 272 lights installed in the boulevard system can be dispensed with, without impairing the lighting. This, because of the spacing of the standards, declared by Bingham and City Engineer Vaughn Miller to be too close on the streets where the standards are 50 feet apart.

Investigation at City Hall Wednesday showed that the spacing of the lights was fixed by Herman Gamper, engineer from Columbus hired by the last administration to handle the lighting system. Engineer Miller said the plans were drawn by Gamper and passed by council and were entirely in the hands of the Columbus expert.

It was impossible to ascertain at City Hall why it was considered necessary to have lights 50 feet apart on side streets and farther apart on main streets of the city.

Officials at City Hall who were there under the old administration, denied that anyone connected with the installation of the boulevard lighting system was financially interested in the company that supplied material for it.

City Manager Bingham said Wednesday that a test is being made on various streets where the lights are 50 feet apart to show that standards 100 feet apart and staggered, supply sufficient light. This is the average spacing for a number of large cities, he said.

Asked if there was any possibility of the standards deemed unnecessary being torn up and moved to other streets, Bingham said he did not believe there was, as property owners have been assessed for them and endless litigation probably would follow. He said, however, that if satisfactory arrangements could be worked out with property owners, the city could move the lights and thus supply approximately 32 additional squares with the ornamental lights. He intimated that the city would be glad to do this.

Bingham said the saving in electricity by eliminating the 272 unnecessary lights would be at least $3,000 a year to the city.

The streets on which the light standards are considered too close are: Central, Union, Elizabeth, West, Wayne, North, Spring and Elm.

There is no contemplated change in the system on Main, Market and High-sts, Miller said.

INSANITY IS PLEA FOR PIENING

Evidence Adduced to Show Derangement Mentally

STATE HAS CLOSED ITS CASE

Columbus Alienist Summoned in Wapakoneta Trial

WAPAKONETA. (Special.)—Belief that Charles Piening, 45, Minister horse trader on trial for his life in Auglaize county common pleas court here, is insane, was expressed by four witnesses who testified for the defense during the forenoon Wednesday.

The state closed its case Tuesday night, and will demand the extreme penalty of the law for the slayer of Rev. Father Richard Schwieterman, killed at Minster, February 14.

ALIENIST ON STAND

Dr. A. L. Prichard, Columbus state hospital, a noted alienist, took the stand shortly before noon Wednesday. His testimony will relate to the psychological reactions of the prisoner, when tried on various tests to determine his mental capacity.

Among the first witnesses placed in the stand by Attorney Roy C. Layton, former state adjutant general and defendant's counsel, was Miss Ida Naber, of Minster.

Miss Naber is telephone operator in the village exchange.

She remembered she said, that on the afternoon of the murder, the defendant, Piening, called the exchange on several occasions.

"One time he asked what time it was," related the witness. "Then later he called in and asked, 'Is the world really coming to an end?'"

"Yes, certainly, I recognized his voice and the board showed that this call came from his home."

Miss Naber also told of strange requests and calls made by the defendant on other occasions.

Sheriff Bob Ewing and others told of Piening's maniacal conduct at the time he was arraigned in justice court.

MADE WILD OUTBREAK

The prisoner made a wild outbreak, Ewing said and several men were required to subdue him.

Layton brought out by adroit questioning that Piening's conduct in prison had been very peculiar.

Before placing Dr. Prichard on the stand, Layton asked for a recess and held a long consultation.

Father Schwieterman was called to Piening's shack on the night of February 14 to administer to the man. While there John Piening, a brother came.

The defendant became enraged at the sight of his brother and fired a revolver point blank.

The bullet struck a penny and was deflected.

John ran out, calling Father Schwieterman to follow.

A shot was fired from a shotgun and the priest staggered out of the building. He died shortly afterward.

The case will probably go to the jury by noon Thursday, it is indicated by progress made Wednesday.

GOV. DAVIS ROBBED

Diamond Studded Watch Taken From Mansion by Thief

COLUMBUS. (United Press.)—A sneak thief entered Governor Davis' mansion here today and escaped with a diamond studded wrist watch, after being frightened by Mrs. Davis.

Police were informed that Mrs. Davis walked out of a room on the first floor of the mansion and saw the intruder start to descend the stairs.

She called the thief and he replied, "Don't interfere with me—I'm a desperate man."

The man hastened down the stairs, out the front door and broke into a run as he reached the street. The watch is valued at $750.

KINZER AND LANDFAIR QUIT FORCE

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH, 30 MILES AWAY TO BE HEARD BY PEOPLE OF CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI. — No arrangements have thus far been made for broadcasting by radio the speech of President Harding to be delivered at Point Pleasant, Ohio on April 27, at 2 p. m., the occasion being the observance of the centenary of General U. S. Grant. The great general and former president was born in Point Pleasant.

Instead the loud speaking telephone will be utilized to convey the words of the president, delivered 30 miles away, to the people of this city. The local telephone company has installed the amplifiers which were used when the president spoke in Arlington cemetery, Washington, at the burial of the unknown soldier, in one of the parks here and thousands will be able to hear the address. Five extra trunk lines have been installed between Point Pleasant and Cincinnati as a precaution against accident and the line will be constantly patrolled by linemen in automobiles.

MANY MAROONED BY FLOOD

Steamer Goes to Aid of Sufferers in Illinois

CAIRO, Ills. — (Associated Press.) — The steamer Three States today left here for the Dog Tooth Bend district, between Cairo and Fayville, Ills., to aid 150 negro families marooned by flood waters of the Mississippi river. Relief investigators declared several families are in a famished condition.

Food, tents, and medical supplies will be taken by the steamer. A civic relief committee and representatives of the Red Cross will bring the more seriously ill refugees to Cairo, after moving the marooned families to higher ground and supplying them with provisions and shelter.

It was said the district was inundated so unexpectedly that most of the inhabitants were unable to flee. They became refugees in the highest part of their shacks, which are in danger of settling.

At Future City, another negro settlement, 30 families were reported driven to high ground by the flood.

Five drainage districts in this city slowly are being inundated by flood waters let in by levee breaks.

Thousands of acres of agricultural land in Alexander, Union and Jackson counties are covered.

Refuge camps have been established in Cairo and north of McClure. Shipments of army supplies are arriving here from the adjutant general's office at Springfield, Ills., to care for the flood sufferers.

35 LIVES LOST

CHICAGO. (United Press.) — Check up today showed that 35 persons in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri lost their lives in the series of cyclones and tornadoes.

Official compilation of lists showed that duplications in the numbers of deaths had come over badly crippled wires.

Property damage will reach $3,000,000, it was estimated.

The central division of the Red Cross is adding sufferers.

LEGION WARNS OF ARMY CUT

Step Toward Undermining Military Policy, MacNider Says

PLEADS FOR 150,000 MEN

Ex-Soldier's Chief Appears Before Senate Committee

WASHINGTON. — (Associated Press.) — Declaring that the house reduction in the army appropriation bill is the "first step toward undermining our splendid military policy," the American Legion, thru Hanford MacNider, its national commander, formally put before the senate appropriations committee today an appeal for an army of 150,000 men.

The house plan for an army of 115,000 men, together with the cut in other appropriations, means the upsetting of the army reorganization act of 1920, so that the country again would be left without an adequate preparedness program, the legion head declared.

"We insist that appropriations adequate for a continuation of the development of the army of the United States shall be made," said Mr. MacNider. "It must continue on a sound and efficient basis."

Mr. MacNider said the legion "unqualifiedly backs up" the president, the secretary of war and General Pershing for an army of 150,000 as the minimum needed to perform its "proper mission" in the 1920 plan of defense.

Endorsement was given also to the Pershing officer bill calling for about 13,000 officers and to the plan of reduction by elimination of least efficient officers.

The legion believed, Mr. MacNider declared, that its position "was supported back home."

The legion desired particularly that there be an increase in the appropriation for the national guard over that allowed by the house, Mr. MacNider said, and added that consideration must be given the "first line of our citizen army, for its summer training."

2 ARE KILLED IN RAIL WRECK

Passenger Trains Collide in Kansas—Several Injured

HUTCHINSON, Kas. — (United Press.) — Two persons were killed and several injured when two Rock Island passenger trains collided at Plains, 150 miles west of here, today.

Engineers Charles Wideman and Peter Flick were reported to have been killed instantly.

A misunderstanding in orders was said to have caused the wreck. Both locomotives were demolished and baggage cars on both trains were telescoped.

Complete destruction of the Paul Kautz tobacco warehouse by fire catching from flames leaping out of three blazing tank cars, filled with gasoline and stoppage of east and westbound traffic on the main line of the Chesapeake and Ohio, featured the derailment.

Members of the train crew were uninjured in the wreck.

NEW YORK. — (Associated Press.) — Lady Astor, native of Virginia, citizen of Great Britain, and the first woman elected to membership in the house of commons, was a passenger on the liner Olympic, which arrived here today. A notable gathering of American women welcomed her.

Some went to the pier because they had known Lady Astor in Virginia when she was Nanny Langhorne, one of five pretty Langhorne sisters. Others composed an official welcoming committee of statewomen selected by the League of Women Voters, at whose Pan-American conference, opening in Baltimore on Thursday, Lady Astor is to take a prominent part.

The couple of greeting over, Lady Astor was escorted to the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, known through the world as the original of the "Gibson Girl." Tomorrow she will make her first speech here at Town Hall on "Women in Politics."

FESS ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR SENATE

WASHINGTON. — Congressman Simon B. Fess, of Yellow Springs, chairman of the national Republican congressional committee today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Ohio.

That a misunderstanding between Mr. Fess' Washington office and its newly established headquarters at Columbus, several Ohio papers published an announcement of his candidacy Monday and several morning papers carried it today.

Following the conference, Kinzer and Landfair announced that they would leave the department. "It was a personal affair," declared Lanker. "The men had been talking with citizens. I did not accuse them of anything. It was brought to my attention that they were talking."

Lanker said he would not bring in witnesses, because he was not in the habit of disclosing his sources of information. He also expressed some surprise over the matter and said as far as he was concerned the records of the officers are clean. Lanker said he believed the men acted too hastily in deciding to quit.

"Disloyalty to the department," was the manner in which Manager Bingham characterized the affair. Bingham said he was present at the meeting at the request of Lanker and could not stir whether the officers were supposed to have told the stories on or off duty.

He admitted all three officers absolutely denied the charges.

RAVED GOOD OFFICERS

Kinzer and Landfair, are rated as two of the best officers on the force. Neither has ever been called on the carpet before.

Both officers participated in the clean up of the McGinn-Townsend and Baker-Sutton gangs last year. Kinzer shot and seriously wounded Crawford Baker in a gun battle in N. Jackson.

Landfair will return to his former occupation as a telephone messenger. He has been in the department two years and two months.

Kinzer has served under four administrations, in his seven years in the department.

PLANT WRECKED BY EXPLOSION OF AMMONIA

PITTSBURGH. — The explosion of four large ammonia tanks in the cooler room on the first floor of the Tech Food Products Company building here last night caused damage estimated at $130,000 and injured two employees seriously.

Windows in houses nearby were blown out by the force of the explosion. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

ACCUSED, PROOF IS DENIED

Charged With "Talking About" Chief of Police T. A. Lanker

WALLACE ALSO "ON CARPET"

Unexpected Result When Men Are Called Before Manager

Traffic Officer Frank Kinzer and Detective Ross Landfair resigned from the police department Wednesday, after being called before Manager C. A. Bingham and Chief T. A. Lanker, and accused they say falsely, of making uncomplimentary remarks about the chief.

Patrolman Ed Wallace was also called on the carpet for the same purpose, but has not resigned.

DENY ACCUSATIONS

All of the officers denied the accusations made and asked Lanker and Bingham to produce witnesses. This was not done.

The officers were told they were called in as a warning and for purposes of discipline. Captain George Strick was present at the hearing, which occurred in police headquarters at 10 a. m.

According to Landfair and Kinzer, they were accused by Bingham and Lanker of having stated that the latter was discharged from the Dayton department. They were also accused of telling citizens other matters concerning Lanker.

The officers asked permission to confront the person who had given Bingham and Lanker the information, but the privilege was denied them, they assert.

"If you men don't quit talking about the chief," Bingham is alleged to have told the officers, "the axe will fall."

129 NON-UNION MINES CLOSED

Big Gains Made by Coal Diggers' Organizers

DISTURBERS UNDER BOND

West Virginia Production Drops 183,460 Tons

PITTSBURGH, — (Associated Press.)—Supplementing a list of 129 non-union coal mines and coke plants in Western Pennsylvania, issued by district headquarters of the United Mine Workers, which officials claimed had been closed by union organizers, came reports from Somerset today that about 250 non-union workers at Roswell had struck. They were employed by the Davis Coal and Coke company, officers of which stated that the number of striking men was hard to determine, since many of their employees were obtaining a Russian holiday.

Following a discussion between Peter Ferraro of Indiana, a union board member, and Sheriff Richards of Somerset, relative to alleged interference by officers at a meeting of Union Center, state police officers at Greensburg were called upon to settle the question and ruled that miners could hold meetings either in halls or outdoors without interference so long as the meetings were not held on coal company property and there was no disorder.

ORGANIZERS UNDER BOND

Included in the list of 129 mines reported closed by the union, the report showed, were 35 mines of the H. T. York company but from Connelville and Newton, coke co., came word that some of the mines named by the union were still operating.

Three union organizers and a strike sympathizer were held in $500 bail for the May term of court at Greensburg after a disturbance at Export in which state police disarmed the four men and lodged charges against them.

CUT IN PRODUCTION

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (Associated Press.)—Of 1,356 mines in West Virginia reporting to the West Virginia Coal Association, a report from that body developed 422 are in operation. From the upper Potomac and the Kanawha basins, no reports of the number of mines working were received. State production for the past week was 183,460 tons less than normal, according to the figures given, but was 22,695 tons in excess of the amount mined during the week ending April 8.

Judge Martin A. Knapp, of the circuit court of appeals, yesterday suspended portions of a temporary restraining order against officials and members of the United Mine Workers, issued by Judge George W. McClinton, in United States district court last week with reference to activities in the Mingo field.

Every member of the club proved to be a good singer and the club as a whole was well drilled. The hits of musical nonsense at the close of the program were original and especially well liked by the audience. A reception and informal dance for the members of the club was given by members of the Lima Alumnae association at the Argonne Hotel following the concert. More than 50 couples took part in the dancing.

FROST PREDICTED FOR THIS NIGHT

Ted is holed up, as a precautionary measure against a frost visitation tonight, which the weatherman predicts in forecasting. His promise of a visit from Jack Frost for the night apparently flew, so far as has been gleaned from reports made.

However, he may be better off on a second try, scheduled on tonight. There is a more hopeful and optimistic outlook in the way of weather conditions for the immediate future, with the statement of rain and the subsiding of water from low-lands.

Cloudy and cooler tonight, except perhaps showers near Lake Erie is the forecast. Thursday is to be fair and cooler. Frost is predicted for west and central portions of Ohio tonight.

Grace Daggon Ordered Committed to Hospital

Grace Daggon was committed to Toledo state hospital Wednesday by Judge Jesse H. Hamilton, following a hearing held in probate court to determine the girl's mental condition.

She is in St. Rita's hospital recovering from a self-inflicted wound incurred a week ago when she attempted suicide at the grave of her brother, Grover Daggon, war veteran, in Woodlawn cemetery.

Grace is the third war victim in the same family. Grover, a brother, returned home to die from tuberculosis, the result of poison gas. Frank Daggon, a second brother is in the asylum, having lost his reason. The strain of caring for the two boys and Grover's death caused the sister to become mentally unbalanced.

She will be removed to Toledo as soon as able to stand the journey.

Other portions of the county were unharmed. Sam M. Mourey, Springfield, said that his growing strawberry plants had not been damaged and that no signs of a frost had been seen.

Farmers as a whole protected their fruit as best they could, but very few have the smudge pots and other apparatus necessary to keep the frost king away.

CHILE EXECUTIVE LAUDS HARDING

Thanks President for Inviting Tacna Arica Parley o U. S.

SANTIAGO, Chile — (United Press)

Chile is prepared to make every sacrifice within the limits of right and justice in order to obtain a successful result in the Tacna Arica conference, President Alessandri, of Chile, declared in an interview with W. W. Hawkins, president of the United Press, at the presidential palace on Tuesday.

President Alessandri said: "I am very grateful to President Harding for his invitation to hold the conference in the United States."

"I look upon the United States as an idealistic nation, not as a materialist nation, seeking money for itself, but as a nation using its material resources to build institutions for the service of humanity."

"While you Americans are always seeking material wealth, you constantly have in mind its possible employment for the benefit of mankind. I believe President Harding is the incarnation of this idealistic American spirit. I have the most profound and sincere admiration for him."

"Chile has the most sincere desire to reach an agreement in the Tacna Arica conference and is prepared to make every sacrifice within the limits of right and justice based on the Arica treaty."

"Chile goes to the conference with the most optimistic spirit, hopeful of great success."

Asked regarding the position of Bolivia, Alessandri said: "If the Tacna conference is successful and should the case arise, Chile is prepared to consider in the most conciliatory spirit, Bolivian aspirations, but Bolivian claims cannot be taken up in connection with the Tacna Arica conference, because they were settled in the treaty of 1904 and Bolivia is not a party to the Arica treaty."

A portion of the lot near the sidewalk was cleared off and leveled and will be used by the safety men for exercise, in lieu of hanging around headquarters.

Below we publish figures that should interest every Lima business man. They were compiled today by Mr. Curtis, advertising manager for the Hoover-Bond Company, as a result of four full page advertisements run last Friday by this home-furnishing concern, featuring Sellers' Kitchen Cabinets.

On the page appeared a small coupon to be clipped by readers and taken to the Hoover-Bond store Saturday.

The News produced 310 returns according to Mr. Curtis; the morning newspaper 90 and the other two page advertisements 150. The News led the combined list by 70 returns, and the cost of the News advertisement was $23.10 less than the combined list.

CELINA MAN DENIES HE PLACED LIQUOR IN AUTO; IS HELD IN $1,000 BOND

"Judge, my car was stolen last night, and when I found it I discovered somebody had left two quarts of liquor in it," said R. Schupp, 26, Celina, in criminal court Wednesday when arraigned on a charge of violating the Crabbie Act.

Police say they investigated Schupp's machine at the corner of Pine and Kibby-sts Tuesday night and found the hooch in a tool box.

Schupp's story did not go far with Judge Jackson, however. He received the Celina man's plea of not guilty and set his bond at $1,000. Schupp made efforts to secure a lawyer and have a trial date set. He was remanded to jail in default of bond.

WATKINS TAKES KINKS OUT OF NEW CITY CAR

Bandits, safe crackers, loggers and other gentry who practice skimming around the guardians of the law, had better beware.

The police department has a brand new flier!

"She" was delivered Wednesday, all spick and span and gleaming, but a trifle creaky in the joints, due to lack of familiarity with the ups and downs of local thoroughfares.

Motor Cop Dick Watkins spent the entire morning kicking the kinks out of Lizzie. At noon she showed sign of submission and Dick says she hums and sings "I'll ketchum, I'll ketchum, I'll ketchum!"

She will be utilized for general emergency calls and investigation of complaints, Chief of Police Lanker said.

The department now has three motor vehicles, an Auburn touring car, the new addition and a motorcycle.

E. M. REILLY WILL BE OUSTED

Slated for Removal as Governor of Porto Rico

WASHINGTON — (United Press)

E. Mont Reilly, Kansas City, will be removed as governor of Porto Rico in the near future, it was learned today from a source close to President Harding.

The president, it was said today by one of his confidantes on Porto Rico matters, is convinced Reilly is not the man to govern the island and has decided it would be unwise to leave him there much longer.

The president's views, it is known, have been communicated to leaders in congress, where there is threatened movement to bring impeachment proceedings against Reilly unless the administration acts.

Harding is said to feel that the governor is not guilty of any wrong doing, as has been charged by Porto Rican representatives, but that the only hope for settled conditions on the island is to send a new governor.

A mass of "detailed information" regarding Reilly has just been received by confidential messenger and this is being examined by the president and war department officials.

PATTERNS LACKING; WORK AT STEEL PLANT HALTED

Failure of pattern makers to supply sufficient patterns to keep the foundrymen of the Ohio Steel Co. working has resulted in the closing down of the plant until the first of next week.

"There are plenty of orders on hand, but the patterns have not been made and we can do nothing until we have them. We hope to have the men back to work Monday or Tuesday," J. W. Beall, purchasing agent, said Wednesday.

LOCAL "Y. W." MEMBERS REPORT FOR HOT SPRINGS

Mrs. Ira Longworth, 1735 Lakewood-av.; Mrs. H. M. Crawford, 853 W. Market-st.; Miss Lulu Wale of the industrial clubs and Miss Ruth Seymour, general secretary, make up the Lima delegation. They left Wednesday noon and will travel via Memphis, on a special train out of Cincinnati.

BUSINESS LOST BY INDIFFERENCE

Lack of Courtesy Proves Costly to Many Concerns

FAIL TO INSPIRE CONFIDENCE

Personal Experience Commented on by Forbes

(By B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) — As it was raining, I didn't care to walk as far as the restaurant where I usually have lunch. I ducked into a nearby place. It's prices were about the same and the food was quite as good. But I don't want to go back.

When I entered that restaurant I was a good "prospect." I might have become a regular customer. Maybe the waiter will carry a suggestion for better service as well as for employees.

I was a hurry. I wanted more butter and I looked around for a waiter. He was not within sight. He had come to the kitchen to fill another order. I looked pointedly at another waiter who was standing idle and beckoned to him what I wanted. He moved neither muscle nor foot. He simply stared at me with complete indifference. And I had to wait until my own waiter reappeared and finished setting a course before three diners.

In the restaurant I customarily visit, each waiter has been trained to show the utmost courtesy to all guests, no matter which table they may be at. In it I would have been immediately and politely served by any waiter within sight not at the moment busy.

So, hereafter, even though it may be raining, I shall go to my regular place—or, at least, I shall most certainly avoid the other place.

I have tried to analyze why such a trivial incident produced such an effect upon my mind. I don't believe the reason is solely that I was offended by the impolite waiter's silent snub. I find that I came away from the place with a feeling that it was poorly run, that its employees haven't been well trained, that they are concerned only about showing attention to those from whom they can expect tips. And this, in turn, makes me feel that perhaps the selection of the food and its preparation have been entrusted to employees who are equally indifferent to the comfort of customers.

On the other hand, the courtesy and efficiency always exhibited by the employees at my own restaurant have inspired me with respect for and confidence in the management and of those in their employ. I have a sense of security, a sense of faith that everything connected with the running of this house is looked after carefully, properly, painstakingly, with an earnest desire to please patrons and cater to their properly in every respect.

Haven't you the same feeling about other organizations? Do you not find yourself preferring to deal with one rather than another? Haven't you the same feeling about railroads? For example, I always feel a sense of safety when I board a Pennsylvania train, whereas I cannot count upon receiving quite as efficient handling when patronizing some other line, particularly in certain parts of the South.

There is a certain men's clothing firm that I always enter with a comfortable feeling that I'll receive honest value for whatever money I spend. I rather think that here also my confidence has been won in part by the courtesy and efficiency of the employees. There is always at the door a dignified yet cordial employee who politely asks if he can be of service in directing you to the particular department or the particular salesman you are looking for. The whole atmosphere inspires faith in the ability and sincerity of the management.

I know important business men who avoid having dealings with men who are not punctual. "If a man doesn't keep an appointment with me at the time he promised, I cannot trust him," such men have told me. "I feel that they have not the proper function of a citizen, that they are careless, that they are not in the proper state of mind to do their work." I wouldn't have them in my own business at any rate.

DIVORCE IS DENIED IN CASE OF THE WHETSLERS

Attempts of Hoosier and Edward Whetsler, 345 St. John's, to set the marital knot, came to naught Wednesday when Judge Fred C. Becker, dismissed petitions filed by both husband and wife.

Evidence showed, he held, that neither is entitled to a divorce at this time. Both the defendant and the plaintiff were ordered to pay their own costs.

The court will determine at a later date Judge Becker announced, to which parent the three children will be awarded. They are Florence, 16; Walter, 12; and Bernice, 7.

In her petition Mrs. Whetsler charged that her husband attempted to kill her and set forth other alleged acts of cruelty.

Whetsler filed a cross petition charging his wife with misconduct with W. W. Watkins. He caused the arrest of the two in a hotel, January 12. Police who made the arrests were subpoenaed as witnesses.

LIMA MIDSHIPMEN ARE WASHINGTON VISITORS

L. B. Edwards and A. M. Hurst, of Lima and A. R. Hizer of Collum, midshipmen at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, received a three-day Easter vacation this year and put it to good use by visiting Washington.

It was the first time the men attending the government college had been given a three-day vacation at Easter time and it afforded many of them the opportunity to hear the debate on the naval bill.

While in Washington the three midshipmen called at the office of Congressman John L. Cable, who had obtained their appointment to the naval academy.

LIFE-BLOOD SOLD BY VETERANS

ANY KIND OF JOB IS SOUGHT

Legion Repeats Appeal in Behalf of Ex-Soldiers

BY HANFORD MACNIDER, National Commander, American Legion

INDIANAPOLIS — (Special) —

The American Legion repeats its appeal to every American to exert himself and to join with his neighbor in giving employment to the ex-servicemen who need it.

It was our estimate that 700,000 of our comrades were out of work and in great need. In nearly every city and town of the country groups of public-spirited citizens have come forward with jobs to relieve the suffering of our buddies. In many instances the work offered, and so gladly received, is temporary. Nor has there been enough to go around. Our appeal is not for a day only. We are constantly asking every community to give deep thought to this problem and to do everything possible to provide work for these men.

Without doubt the worst condition is in the large cities where these young heroes thrust the cold winter have tramped the streets from early morning to late at night, trying to find a job, any kind of a job, that would enable them to live in the country they fought to preserve. Always behind these men are the women and children suffering as they suffer, starving as they starve.

The World War was 3000 miles away to most Americans until our own casualty lists began to be printed. This need of employment by the service men may seem to be exaggerated or not to exist in your community just because you don't see it. But the unemployment casualty lists are in your very neighborhood. Find the victims and help them! You will find them eager and ambitious to help themselves.

BARRACKS MAINTAINED

In Cleveland the Legion maintains a barracks for its unemployed buddies. These men have been picking up money by supplying almost all the blood needed for transfusion operations at Lakeside Hospital. One call for blood came at 8 o'clock one morning and a few minutes later 25 ex-servicemen appeared at the hospital, ready to sell their life-blood.

An ex-soldier of Dallas, Texas, III for a long period and just out of his bed, saw a "Mule Help Wanted" ad in the newspaper. Two other men saw it at the same time. They caught a street car. The ex-soldier missed the car but foot-raced it for a mile and beat the other applicants to a job.

Twelve majors, five naval commanders, 27 captains and nearly 100 lieutenants of the days of glory applied for any kind of jobs at the Legion employment bureau, New York, in the space of a few months. An ex-serviceman of Emporia, Kan., jobless and stranded in Chicago, was promised a job in Los Angeles, Cal. Lacking money to get there, he started walking—selling chewing gum bought with borrowed money to pay his expenses. "It's 1500 miles, but jobs are scarce," he said.

In Providence, R. I., a young ex-serviceman was "fired" because he stayed at home the day a child was born to his wife. He hadn't money enough to get an attendant—and now he hasn't even a place to work, though he has searched diligently.

RUSSIA DEMANDS VOTE ON PACT

Answer to Allied Protest Against Treaty With Germany

TEUTONS REMAIN IN PARLEY

Won't Quit Because of Disbarment in Moscow Talk

BY HENRY WOOD

GENOA — (United Press) — The Russian delegation to the Genoa conference announced today that it will ask that the Russo-German treaty be discussed at a plenary session and put to a vote.

This was the soviet answer to the allied protest against the commercial agreement privately signed at Rapallo Easter Sunday by German and Russian foreign ministers.

An allied note of protest, penned by Lloyd George, was addressed to Germany and the German delegation was expected to reply today. Although the allies, acting in concert with the "little Entente" have informed Germany that she can have no further part in Genoa negotiations concerning Russia, it was considered doubtful that Wirth and Rathenau would take this rebuke to heart and go home. Germany, it was pointed out, had completed by means of the treaty, any agreements she had made to make with Russia.

BITTER EXCHANGES

The Genoa conference is in a state of turmoil, thru the outspoken passing of the lie in bitter exchanges between Lloyd George and Rathenau, German foreign minister.

Did Lloyd George know of the Russian-German treaty before it was signed?

Rathenau says "yes," and that he tried repeatedly to furnish the British premier with details but was put aside.

Lloyd George declared this an utter falsehood and says the treaty was a complete surprise, astonishing every one.

The German, according to newspaper correspondents, who called upon him, said Lloyd George lied, if he (Lloyd George) claimed to have had no previous knowledge that Russia and Germany planned a separate agreement.

CONFERENCE SAVED

The Genoa conference apparently has been saved. For the last two days it had been tottering on the edge of collapse, due to indignation of some of the more important leaders over the action of the Germans and Russians in secretly concluding a treaty covering the principal and most delicate points under consideration by the conference.

Now, however, the delegates are to go forward with the work, but the Germans are barred from participating in all deliberations concerning the Russian question. This penalty was laid down in a note of censure sent to the Berlin delegation yesterday.

GERMANS PROTEST

Whether Germany will continue at the conference is problematical, but her delegates are engaged in drafting a reply to the note of censure, and it is thought that, while protesting their debarment from the conference, they will be content to remain.

ing a reply to the note of censure, and it is thought that, while protesting their debarment from the conference, they will be content to remain.

Their reply is expected to make the point that only the full conference has power to bar them and in this they are supported by the neutral nations. Led by Denmark, whose delegates already have protested to the conference leaders.

Furthermore, Dr. Walter Rathenau, German foreign minister, maintains the conversations with Russia were not secret, as he says Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain was notified last week, thru another member of the British delegation, that the Germans "could not agree to the program contained in the report of the allied experts and were forced to negotiate with Russia direct."

FIGHT OVER NAVY MAY END TODAY

Final Vote on Cut in Personnel is Expected

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The end of the long and bitter fight over the 1923 naval budget was in sight today in the House. Barring an unexpected flood of debate, leaders said the measure would come up for final passage before adjournment tonight. A separate vote by roll call will be demanded on the amendment adopted in committee of the whole Saturday increasing the enlisted personnel from 67,000 to 86,000 and its supporters predicted it would win by a majority of 60.

Republicans advocating the $6,000 proposal expressed gratification today that widely current rumors to the effect that the president would not have urged that total had been in possession of figures said to have been laid before him by Representative Fess, had been definitely denied.

Taking the report to the floor, Representative McArthur, Republican, Oregon, asked Mr. Fess: "I want to know if there is any truth in the report that you went to the White House Saturday with certain figures and that the president said if he had seen those figures before he wrote the letter to Mr. Longworth he would not have written it. Is there any truth in that statement?"

"I will say to the gentlemen," Mr. Fess replied, "that I went to the White House to talk about the facts. He told me that he could not carry the facts in his mind. He said if I would go over to the navy department they could explain them. He said nothing to the effect that if he had seen the facts he would not have written that letter."

ADDRESS ON RAILROADS

J. A. McBride, of Cleveland, will be the speaker at a meeting of the B. of L. P. and E. at the Court House, Wednesday 8 p. m. McBride's address will be on "The Present Conditions of the Railroads." The public is invited to attend.

Mary Baker Goes to Normandy Instead of London

WEDDING IS POSTPONED

Nervous Breakdown Given as Cause of Delays

BY WEBB MILLER

PARIS — (United Press) — Allister McCormick may be left waiting at the church for the fifth time.

All Paris was astounded today by sudden developments in the Chicago romance of which the consummation has been so many times postponed. Instead of hastening to her fiancé, Mary Landon Baker has gone to Normandy, where it's apple blossom time, to live quietly on a farm and "think over her approaching wedding."

Viscount Janze, whose wife, the Viscountess, accompanied the Chicago girl to the Normandy retreat, made this announcement today. He declared Miss Baker was extremely nervous and that it would be necessary for her to rest at least a month.

There he cast fresh doubts upon the much-postponed marriage to McCormick, who waits in Paris for his bride.

Miss Baker must live the life of a farmer for a month or so. She wants to think of wedding by herself. After that she can consider what she will do. She will not know whether Mr. McCormick is going to France to see her or not.

The Chicago girl was bright and smiling when seen by a United Press correspondent. She declared she would remain in Paris a fortnight to buy her trousseau and then would hurry to London to be married.

Immediately after Miss Baker made this statement, she was hurried inside a closed car and taken to the home of Viscount and Viscountess Janze, who refused permission for further talks, saying hereafter that Viscount Janze would speak for her.

DIFFERENT STORY

The story told reporters today by the viscount, following the secret, hasty departure of the viscountess and Miss Baker for Normandy was quite different from that told by Miss Baker.

On January 2, of this year, when Chicago's Gold Coast thronged the fourth Presbyterian Church, after sending $100,000 worth of wedding presents, Miss Baker left Allister McCormick waiting at the altar with his best man. She suffered a nervous breakdown. Twice since that incident which set Chicago society agog, and once before, the wedding was postponed.

HUMANITY AND CHARITY

MANY persons appear to have obtained the mistaken idea that "Gloom Chasing Week," which is under way in this city, is a charity event. Far from it.

There is a vast difference between humanity and charity. The cause for which Lima people have enlisted themselves, creating a needed fund for the Social Service bureau, is not a charity. The beneficiaries of the fund are men and women who would provide for their own wants, if the opportunity was afforded them in the way of employment.

It is a condition over which they have no control. Lacking a wage in return for service performed, they are compelled to accept temporary aid. They do so reluctantly. Pride steps in, but hunger knows no rebuff. Those who have been afforded relief by the Social Service bureau are for the most part those who have heretofore been self-supporting. Previously they had no occasion to ask aid of anyone.

However, lack of the opportunity to pay their own way is but a temporary situation. A little help here and there, to tide over the rough places, is the seed of kindness and neighborliness sown by those who aid the fund. All in good time these same people who have been and some of whom still are, subjects for help, will again be self-supporting.

Contributions in any manner to the Social Service fund do not constitute acts of charity. Rather, the act of giving is the exemplification of the spirit of humanity—of the common idea. It should be a case, in a time like this, of all for one and one for all. What has been done and that which will continue to be done until conditions adjust themselves, is but a duty on the part of those who are able to lend aid to those less fortunate.

In giving to the Social Service bureau, do not consider it a charity. It is a mistaken idea. It is merely a loan, in the name of humanity. Such aid expects no cash return—no dividend on the investment.

MAN'S HELPLESSNESS

THERE are many things that man is able to guard against, in the way of catastrophes, by the application of preventatives, born of inventive genius. He is able to safeguard railroad crossings, divert lightning, protect his possessions from ruin and build his storehouses outside of flood areas.

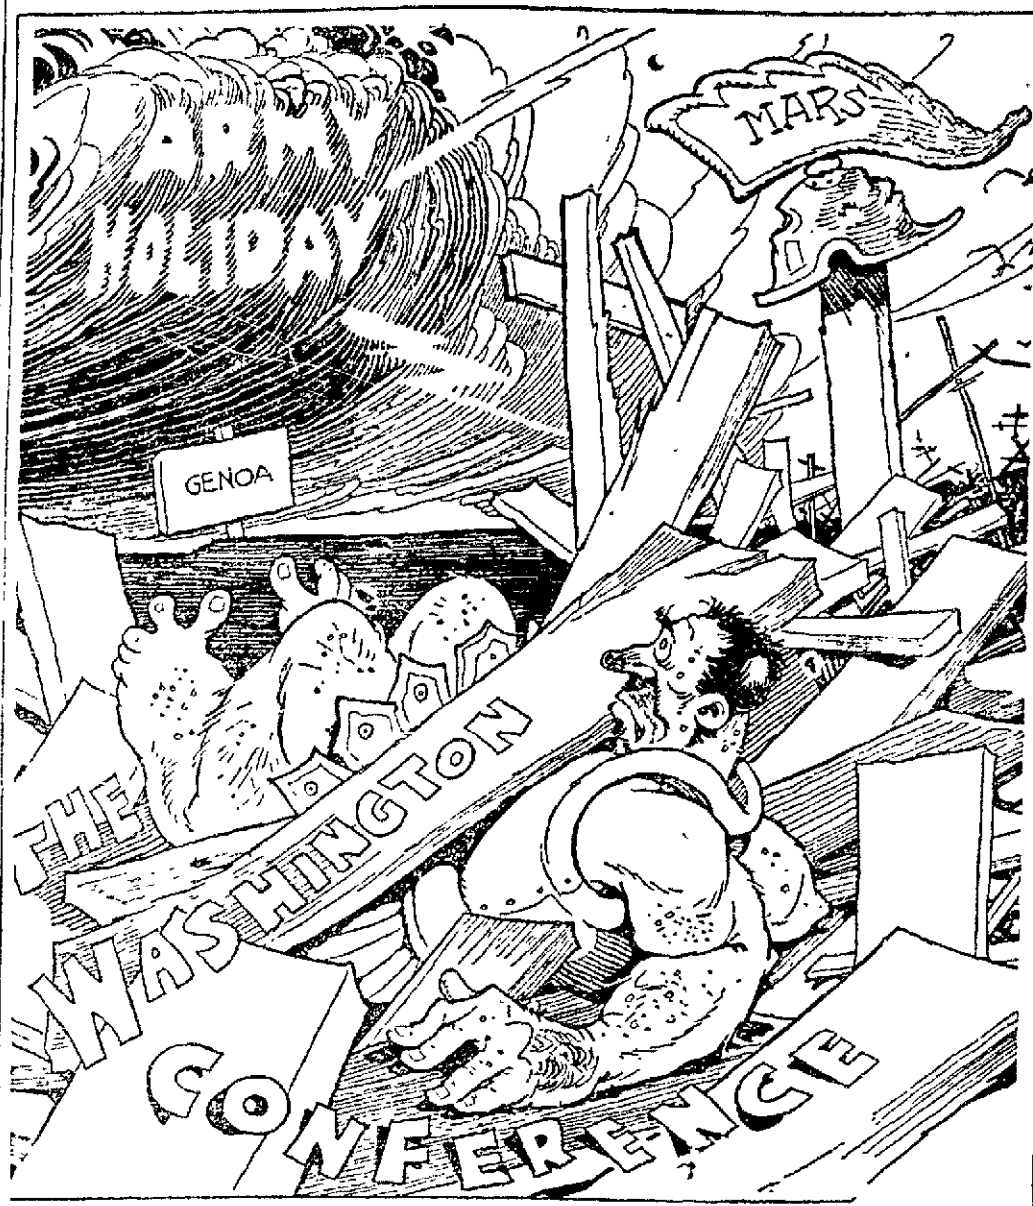

Warning of impending danger can be flashed to all quarters of a community, state, the country or the entire world, by the use of the telephone and radio telegraph. Countries can equip themselves to prevent invasion by a foreign foe. Armies can be placed in the field in an incredibly short space of time.

Railroad travel is made comparatively safe by the application of modern appliances and devices, vessels are equipped to withstand storms at sea and buildings are constructed in areas where such precautions are necessary that withstand rather violent earthquake shocks. These and other things man can cope with, to a certain degree.

However, when it comes to escaping from violent and unexpected visitations of destructive winds in the form of tornadoes or cyclones, there seems to be no escape, save in the larger centers of population, where structures of concrete and steel frequently withstand such shocks, but even these are not absolutely safe when the elements are in savage mood.

Violent winds seem to prefer the sweep of the open country. Most farm homes are provided with cellars, where the occupants may seek protection when violent storms appear, but the homes, their barns, their livestock and their crops are at the mercy of the winds. With all his ingenuity, man is unable to prevent tornadoes and cyclones and is also able to provide only in a feeble manner for escaping the havoc they wreak.

Such visitations come unexpectedly and usually without warning. The damage is dependent upon the violence of the riot of the elements, but in it man and man-made structures are helpless.

TAXES

ON all sides you hear people say. "A fellow wouldn't mind this deflation so much if taxes didn't stay so high."

National taxes during the fiscal year, which will end next June 30, average $32.10 for each American.

The Englishman is paying an average of $128.90, compared with our $32.10. Italian pays $13.93, Frenchman $51.69.

The British treasury, which figures this out, also finds that corresponding taxes in Germany are only $3.48 for each inhabitant. That's a peculiar form of penalty for losing the war.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
SECRETS OF MASSAGE

So brilliant have been the results of properly applied massage that a host of charlatans and takers has sprung up to exploit the system.

Just as is the case of all effective means of treating the sick, it is safe and health-giving only when applied by one whose knowledge of the constitution of the human body, of pathology and of the sciences is suitable to select proper treatment for each individual.

The purpose of massage is to free the tissues from waste products which a stagnant circulation leaves in them; in general to promote circulation and exercise the muscles.

The first general rule of massage is that all movements should be toward the heart. The various movements used in massage are: stroking, friction, kneading, vibration, percussion and joint movements.

Stroking consists of a gentle sedative movement with fingers or palms. Friction is a heavy stroking, using the balls of the thumb and fingers. The first relieves nervousness; the second is good for stagnant blood vessels.

Kneading is an alternate compression and lifting of the tissues—not letting the hand slide over the surface as in the other movements, but remaining in one place.

Vibration is done with the finger tips or with electric vibrators. It and the kneading are good stimulants for those who need a stirring up of the digestive and eliminating systems.

Joint movements are used in final stages of treatment for arthritic troubles, such as rheumatism. For constipation due to sluggishness, the kneading and friction of

BEST BOWEL REMEDY FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Pleasant, Easy Action Harmless For All Ages

Constipation is an affliction of a great proportion of the women of this country and there probably never was a baby brought up without liberal use of some form of bowal remedy or regulator. For this purpose there is no safer, friction, and purgative remedy to take than Nerv-Worth. It is a favorite with thousands of mothers for their own use and to keep their children healthy and normal. It acts in a sensible way, mild yet absolutely certain in its results, giving pleasant and lasting relief. It aids in neutralizing poisonous gas-forming acids in the stomach and bowels. It whets the appetite, tones up the system and aids in proper digestion and assimilation of the food. Mrs. Long, of Warren, O., tells that she had terrible stomach trouble, bloating so after eating and suffering so she could not sleep nights. Her little son had bowel trouble and headaches. Both of them since using Nerv-Worth have had no further trouble. Hundreds tell us the same story every year. You can only know what it will do for yourself by trying it. Go to the nearest drug store and buy a bottle. Most first class druggists sell it at one dollar a bottle. Every druggist is authorized to give the money back if the first bottle does not satisfy. WITH APOLOGIES

East Room to better watch the Hish Church parade. Kiddies trucking homeward, as elders, and beautiful boxes of flappers, were filling the churches anew. To the Presbyterian, but only as chauffeur. Again awed by the religious terror of fair femininity on confessions and communion bent.

Home to lunch on a rabbit, without the hit, and a heaker of Komitusk. Out in the coach to watch the parade, but there was no parade. Only scattered exhibitions of overheated rouge and lip-suck athletes. Home to early tea on intimate with my wife, whence came to join us a charming lady, but soon to don bridal veil in froth with an energetic young scoundrel in the ade arts she in a stunning frock and wearing a huge corsage of Calverle.

I, out and to Vespers as my day's devotion. And saw baptized eight of the enamest kiddies of both sexes. And each on good behaviour. In the evening dined at the Club. Graciously accosted and charmingly complimented until my whitened hair turned red, from surging corpulence. And by an old and staunch neighbor, Mrs. Edward M. Gooding. There, too, dining with his parents was the young banker, Sir Jack Schoonover, who gave an imitation of his dad's clear, using celery for his weed. And I laughed and was amused much by the clever chap.

Jake had scoured the world for dainties and offered a frigid fruit up, with an entire of lobster, a la Newport or some eastern wharf. With milk-fed Vermont turkey as the piece de resistance, the stuffin' in everything, if you know what I mean. A delicious garden salad with my beloved radishes therein, and sweets of four choosings, but I selected the glace. Passing thru the grand lobby was intrigued by a noble puv in brave evening dress. A beautifully gowned madame gave me greetings, and I parked a moment with Mrs. Holmes Mackenzie, albeit, she did chide me for negligence in salute, recalling puerile days when I oft sent her box seats for Buffalo Bill. And a circus to her never meant Volsteading the elephants, but a party of school mates, she playing hostess.

On the great porch, Dr. Knibsel the first playing an ill humored solitaire, because he was forced to stand like a doll at a florist's the yesterday while a finious salesclerk preferred selling six carnations to a weekly youth and to be delivered on Allentown-rd. So Doc didn't say it with flowers and in poor mood thereat.

Attempted the squeeze play at three cinema houses, but couldn't get it over. So joined the parade, now in full bloom and uniform, the line stretching from Bluen's to Lelser's, where they formed fours and attacked the male-strown eastern sector. I felt I was again on the Champs Elysees and looking for the Arc de Triomphe when I bumped into Officer Bilstein, who told me the latest style drunk was from unmed heat. They drink the fluid then chew the cake. So homo and to bed.

DANCE. MINSTREL DRAW BIG
Plans Announced For Remainder of the Week

Cash donations of more than $100 poured into the offices of the Social Service Bureau Wednesday morning, to help complete the fund-raising raised to aid the needy of Lima.
This was in addition to the proceeds from the K. of C. Charity Ball and the Elks Minstrel show and open house, Tuesday night. More than $500 had been received by the promoters of the ball and many checks had not been paid for.
DANCE RECEIPTS BIG
Checking up on the sale of tickets has been started and it is believed that a very substantial donation will be made by the K. of C. to the fund, said Wednesday.
Cash received Wednesday and the proceeds was as follows: Lima Lodge No. 205, F. & A. M., $500, Market Presbyterian church, Easter communion offering, $175; Henry Engel Jr., $100; Mack Altschul, $50; H. L. Breckenridge, $50; N. L. Michael, $25; and Baxter Bros., $10.
Events for Wednesday included a red party and dance given by the Elks chapter, A. I. U., in the Elks hall. There will also be dances at the Elks hall under the auspices of the Security Benefit association.
Open house at the Elks home will continue all day Wednesday and the remainder of the week. Special attractions are being provided to a constantly increasing crowd.
There will be no park plan dancing at the Elks home Wednesday and Friday night. There will be dances however, Thursday and Saturday night, the entire proceeds of which will go to the Social Service Bureau.

ALL IS PROMISED
Ben Miller, head of the Lima musicians union which is furnishing an orchestra for the dances free of charge has promised real jazz orchestras for the Elks dances Thursday and Saturday nights. J. W. all chairman of the campaign, said Wednesday.
Everyone is responding to the call for help, Beall said, "but we need their combined aid in putting this program across. There is much work to be done and there is nothing to do but get together and do it a success."

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT BY HEIRS IN WOOLEY CASE
Motion for a new trial was filed by heirs of Joseph Wooley, in a suit brought by Maude Michael, his former housekeeper, for property left by the decedent.
Wooley, it is claimed, promised Miss Michael his property if she would act as housekeeper. He died without leaving a will, it is believed.
Miss Michael brought suit against R. E. Davis administrator, to enforce performance of contract. She was successful in obtaining a verdict a year ago.
Since then the case has been in litigation in higher court.

FIGURES SHOW GROWTH OF LOAN COMPANIES IN ALLEN-CO IS AMAZING
Building and Loan associations in Ohio are bearing a large part of the burden of financing and building new homes, according to a statement issued by John W. Prugh, state superintendent, in connection with the anniversary of the founding of the first institution in the state in 1867.
State supervision over building and loan companies did not commence until 1892.
At that time there were but six companies in Allen-co, with assets of $1,700,000. Today there are nine building, loan and savings institutions with combined assets of $13,069,254.
These concerns have never lost for the owners a penny of the millions deposited with them, it is stated. Much of the money sent outside by investors has been lost in ventures that promised big returns, but paid no dividends.
State supervision is stringent and there are 25 examiners constantly investigating the conditions of concerns in Ohio, Prugh states.

DOZEN WILL TAKE HOME HEAD TEST
Women Not Eligible for Position Vacated by D. W. Higby
More than a dozen applicants will take the examination for the position of superintendent and matron at the Allen-co Children's home, to be held at the court house, Thursday morning.
County Auditor C. R. Phillips, who has been issuing the application blanks, states that he has given out quite a number and that he believes others have applied direct to Columbus.
Only a man can qualify for the position of superintendent. Phillips ruled Wednesday. His decision on the matter was made as a result of inquiries from women asking if they were eligible for the position.
While most of the applicants are married, it is not necessary, Phillips said, for the superintendent and matron to be husband and wife.
Salary for the superintendent is $950 and maintenance, and that of matron $750, and maintenance. A fee of 50 cents is charged in the examination. The test will probably be held in the grand jury room.
Among the couples who will take the examination are: Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baber, Amanda-tp; Mr. and Mrs. Bailis Simpson, Lima, Mr and Mrs. C. A. Rusler; Mr. and Mrs. D. Welker; and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Zurmehly, Lima.

CASEMENT CLOTH
The year 1923 started with homemakers very much troubled as to the correct use of casement cloth—
The result was some "fearful and wonderful" window decorations—Some women, for example, used casement cloth as the sole window coverings — some with an ordinary shade—getting the effect of two window shades—and many found different uses for it.
But the true purpose of a plain fabric such as casement cloth is to replace the ordinary ugly roller shade. When so used it is a delightful addition to the art of window decorating.
We have just received a new grade of excellent quality casement cloth — part silk, 36 inches wide — natural color.

MUTT AND JEFF — JEFF'S BRAIN IS HITTING ON ONE CYLINDER AGAIN

BRINGING UP THE REAR —

By GEORGE McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

Thurm Wagner, Delphos police man, detected a tickles wookpeck in the very act of pecking a hole in the side of a gasoline tank. He showed it off before the tank was punctured. Anthony Wagner, merchant said, "There ought to be a law against a woodpecker doing that."

Winfield Hauss, Wapakoneta auto dealer, fishing. He had a taxidermy who was so accustomed to the taxidermy that he wished to engage the taxidermy next day. So he pulled down the man's name printed on the windshield. "That is the driver's name," said the taxidermy. "But when he found the same two words on scores of other cars he was told that it was Spanish for 'To Hire'."

Charles Herbst, Tabor, reports a young woman asked the waiter in a restaurant to bring her some hot water and a little salt. The waiter had the wrong idea. He brought a bucket of hot water and said "I couldn't get any soap."

J. H. Allene, a friend tells, was under his automobile trying to fix it. He was pulling so much noise with a hammer that he didn't hear a two blow out. The first he knew of it "report" a friend "was when neighbors who thought there had been an explosion started to drag him out by the heels."

George J. Kirk, water works superintendent is still looking over an incident which happened while he was teaching Harry N. Osgood city purchasing agent how to fix. Osgood had no equipment and had to borrow a cork from my kit. Everything went deep time until a brass took hold of the cork and it stuck it out of sight. Kirk says, "How, say, did that cork cost you?" Osgood asks, "About ten cents," replied Kirk. "Well, here, a dime. I've lost the bloomin' thing already," Osgood said. "Well, it's as he paid over a ten cent piece."

Silk stockings last longer washed this way, say makers of "Onyx" hosiery

Emery & Beers Company, Inc.
BROADWAY AT 24th STREET

Lever Bros. Co.,
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

No silk stocking can be expected to wear well if it is allowed to remain unwashed for days. Perspiration, acids, dust and leather stains will rot the delicate silk threads.

Silk stockings should be washed after every wearing and washed as gently as every other fine fabric.

Lux, with its generous suds is ideal for the quick, thorough washing silk stockings require. The rich suds are squeezed through the sheer fabric and totally do away with rubbing, which is too harsh for fine silk.

We advise every woman who buys our silk stockings to launder them with Lux.

Very truly yours,

Emery & Beers
